Indwelling the Forsaken Other
We are living in a vibrant season for academic Christian theology. After a hiatus of some decades, a real flowering of excellent systematic and moral theology has emerged. This situation calls for a series that showcases the contributions of newcomers to this ongoing and lively conversation. The journal Word & World: Theology for Christian Ministry and the academic society Christian Theological Research Fellowship (CTRF) are happy to cosponsor this series together with our publisher Pickwick Publications (an imprint of Wipf and Stock Publishers). Both the CTRF and Word & World are interested in excellence in academics but also in scholarship oriented toward Christ and the Church. The volumes in this series are distinguished for their combination of academic excellence with sensitivity to the primary context of Christian learning. We are happy to present the work of these young scholars to the wider world and are grateful to Luther Seminary for the support that helped make it possible.

Alan G. Padgett
Professor of Systematic Theology
Luther Seminary

Beth Felker Jones
Assistant Professor of Theology
Wheaton College

www.ctrf.info
www.luthersem.edu/word&world
Indwelling the Forsaken Other
The Trinitarian Ethics of Jürgen Moltmann

J. Matthew Bonzo
Contents

Acknowledgements vii
Abbreviations of Frequently Cited Works by Moltmann viii

Introduction 1

CHAPTER 1
Hope for the World
Copying God 3

CHAPTER 2
Mutual Perichoresis
From Divine Apathy to Divine Passion 22

CHAPTER 3
Divine Love
Philia and Agape 36

CHAPTER 4
Jesus Christ as Cosmic Linchpin
Identity in Infinite Contradiction 52

CHAPTER 5
The Sabbath Feast of Redemption
Cosmic Perichoresis 69

CHAPTER 6
The Ethics of Discipleship
Fellowship in the Trinity 83
Acknowledgements

To Prof. James Olthuis whose patience, insight, and encouragement have been with me every step of this long journey. To call him mentor and friend is a privilege.

To my co-promoter, Prof. Aad van Egmond of Vrije Universiteit, Amsterdam, whose willingness to work through my many drafts and offer his expertise has deepened my understanding and encouraged me along the way.

To the members of my dissertation committee whose suggestions have strengthened this work.

To Jürgen Moltmann for his creativity, insight, and faithfulness, and his willingness to spend time with yet another student.

To the faculty of the Institute for Christian Studies who have shaped my life and work, especially Hendrik Hart and Calvin Seerveld.

To the intellectual and spiritual community of the Institute for Christian Studies whose members have blessed me from near and far.

To Kathleen Kennedy for her close reading of several chapters.

To my colleagues at Cornerstone University who have been with me, especially Michael Stevens, Randall Burghart, Tim Detwiler, Mike Cuffman, and Matt Zainea.

To my students at Cornerstone University who have challenged me inside and outside the classroom, especially Larry Baker, Luke Moord, Brad Wortz, John Monda, Matt Harrison and Chris Allers.

To my sisters and extended family who have shown interest and given support over many years.

To my parents, Ronald and Bridget Bonzo, who always have, and continue to, care deeply about me.

To my wife Dorothe and son Matthias, who have been sources of joy, stability, and love in the midst of frustration and success, to whom I dedicate this volume with the deepest gratitude.
Abbreviations of Frequently Cited Works by Moltmann

CG  The Crucified God: The Cross of Christ as the Foundation and Criticism of Christian Theology.
COG  The Coming of God: Christian Eschatology.
DH  Theologie der Hoffnung: Untersuchungen zu Begründung und zu den Konsequenzen einer christlichen Eschatologie.
EH  The Experiment Hope.
GC  God in Creation: An Ecological Doctrine of Creation.
HTG  History and the Triune God: Contributions to Trinitarian Theology.
SL  The Spirit of Life: A Universal Affirmation.
TK  The Trinity and the Kingdom: The Doctrine of God.
UL  “God is Unselfish Love.”
WJC  The Way of Jesus Christ: Christology in Messianic Dimensions.